For such a condition in springtime, there is but one sure, tried and never-failing remedy, it is Paine's Celery Compound, which promptly restores the kidneys to health and enables them to perform their functions. With the kidneys in proper condition, there cannot remain the slightest trace of uric acid in the blood. Mr. A. U. Winters of Cincinnati, O., writes as follows about his wonderful cure;

"In March, 1902, I was dangerously ill, and my condition became so alarming that my family called in a specialist to confer with our family doctor. I was told that my kidneys were in very had condition, and as a consequence my blood was charged with uric acid. I was also suffering from theumatism in back and arms. Getting no positive good from the doctors, a friend advised me to make use of Paine's Celery Compound. The use of the first bottle seemed to produce magical effects, and after I had used five bottles I was strong and well. To-day my blood is pure and clean, appetite hearty. I sleep well, and am gaining in flesh and strength every day. Paine's Celery Compound saved my life, and I thank God for it. I always recommend it

BUILT OVER.

Food That Rebuilt a Man's Body and Built It Right.

By food alone, with a knowledge of what food to use, disease can be warded off and health maintained, also many even chronic diseases can be cured. It is manifestly best and safest to depend upon food to cure rather than too much drugging.

A case in point will illustrate: A well-known man of Reading, Pa., Treas, of a certain club there, says: "I have never written a testimonial letter, but I have been using Grape-Nuts about a year and have recovered my health, and feel that I would like to write you about it, for the case is extraordinary.

ike to write you about it, for the case is extraordinary.

"Por five years I was a sufferer from a dreadful condition of the bowels; the trouble was most obscure." Here follows a detailed description and the condition certainly was distressing enough (details can be given by mail).

"Nothing in the way of treatment of drugs benefited me in the least, and an operation was seriously considered. In May, 1921, I commenced using Grape-Nuts as a food, and with no idea that it would in any way help my condition. In two or three weeks' time I noticed an improvement, and there was a steady gain from that time on until now I am practically well. I don't know how to explain the healing value of the food, but for some reason, although it has taken nearly a year. I have recovered my health, and the change is entirely attributable to Grape-Nuts food, for I long ago dult medicine. I eat only Grape-Nuts for breakfust and luncheon, but at my night dinner I have an assorted meal. Name furnished by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

RAILWAY MATERIAL HARD TO OBTAIN

Traffic Manager Urges That Terminal Association Should Not Be Hampered in Plans.

DELAY IS SERIOUS MATTER.

Foundries Will Not Agree to Fill Orders for Roads Within Stated Period, Fearing a Strike.

Discussing the necessity of providing adeltors to the World's Fair, a prominent railway traffic manager said: "I have given this matter careful consideration, and I believe that every moment lost is a serious matter.

"Of course, I do not know what arrange-their construction material, but speaking from my experience I know that the prompt delivery of Iron work, bridge work, steel rails, cars, and even railroad ties, cannot be counted upon.

I understand that much of this material will be needed in the completion of the plans of the Terminal Association, and before I go any further I would like to say that I have heard of no other plans that will be of as much benefit to St. Louis, both at the time of the Fair and afterwards as those proposed by the Terminal Association and the Wabash.

It should be understood that the plans of the Terminal are not temporary. When completed they will afford means by which the rapidly increasing traffic of St. Louis can be safely, quickly and easily disposed.

In brief, the plans are for St. Louis at the time of the Exposition and afterwards. It is only a question of taking time by the forelock.

"To return to what I was saying. The labor situation has become such a serious matter that none of the big foundries where bridge, car and reliway material is made will make a contract to deliver an order by a stated time unless they have material sufficient to fill the order on hand.

"Due to the fact that enormous orders for rolling stock and material used in the construction of railroads are pouring in, the manufacturer can be independent, but aside from that he is constantly afraid of a strike of some sort, and for that reason will not agree to fill the order within a specified period.

"Especially is it a difficult matter to get an order for electric material filled within a reasonable period, and I understand that a large amount of electrical material is to be put in by the Terminal Association.

"Because of this condition of affairs, I should think that all possible haste should be made in clearing the way for the Terminal Association, in order that it nay place its orders for construction material at once.

"I venture to say that there is not a rail-

"I venture to say that there is not a railroad official in St. Louis that is not baving trouble in getting orders for rolling stock, bridge material and track material filled within a reasonable time.

"It will take considerable time for the Terminal to make the improvements it desires, even if the material is on hand, and I do not think that they should be so hampered as to be dublous about piacing orders, as I suppose is the case under the present conditions, especially as delay by the nonfulfillment of these orders is highly probable."

NEW GOULD LINE POLICY. Stated That Bird Plans to Stop Inter-

While officials of the Gould lines are ex-tremely reticent in regard to the details of the policy outlined by A. C. Bird at the recent conference, it is understood that the new traffic director educidated a plan where-by all traffic in the territory of the Gould roads, from origin to destination, would go over Gould lines.

What effect this will have on the other lines, who have been used to having a pro rata proportion of the Gould traffic and given a like amount in exchange, is not known.

It is stated that out of Kansas City the Chicago traffic of the Wabash amounts to a small proportion of the Kansas City-Chicago traffic, but in future all of the Gould line traffic brought to Kansas City, destined for Chicago, will be routed over the Wabash coll bash only.

This policy, it is stated, will make the Gould lines dependent upon each other mainly for interchange of traffic, as no other line will give a road traffic and receive none in exchange.

HOUSE ILL HUMORED humor, distinctined to listen to the conferees and evidently disposed to put up a battle for the Mueller bill. For that reason the leaders forced a postponement until 2 o'clock. At that hour the signs were no more propitious than in the morning, and so the bill went over until to-morrow. The till was postponed by Speaker Miller this morning under the gavel, in the face of a demand for a roll call. The men who had been ignored retailated by beating the first appropriation bill which showed its head.

first appropriation bill which showed its head.

This was the bill for the Charleston Normal. Then the spirit of destruction took possession of the House, and in the course of the session, it killed Frank Christian's bill providing for unofficial stenographers in courts in Cook County, the Rinaker primary election bill, and Patterson's bill permitting cities in regulate billboards, and it practically buried the Wilkerson antitrust bill by postponing consideration of it until Friday. It also defeated the resolution submitting a constitutional amendment which would permit legislation by the initiative and referendum.

About the only thing the House did in an affirmative way was to adopt the joint resolution submitting the proposition of a new charter for Chicago. This was put through after a stormy debate and a determined effort on the part of some of the Southern Illinois members do beat it. The vote was: Yeas, ill; nays, 4. The amendment was adopted and the bili-was advanced to third reading, but an ef-fort to make it a special order for to-mor-row was defeated.

Mr. Wilkerson's antitrust bill came up in the afternoon, and Mr. Drew opposed it. He declared that it was inimical to la-bor organizations. Mr. Wilkerson replied that the substance of the bill had been the law for years. After some further discus-sion, the bill went over until Friday.

CIVII. SERVICE BILL. CIVIL SERVICE BILL.

civil service bill.

The Senate spent the greater part of the day on the House civil service bill. When it got through the bill was dead and an entirely new measure was in its place. This bill makes the civil service proposition applicable only to the State institution. A referendum amendment was tacked to it by Senator Berry, and the measure then went to the order of third reading. It is not stall likely that the House will accept the new bill, and the indications are that civil service reform will receive its death blow with the adjournment.

At its afternoon session the Senate passed all the appropriation bills it had on third reading. It also passed the bill providing for the annexation of the Calumet District to the Chicago Drainage District.

Senator Fort vigorously protested against this bill. He declared it would throw a large additional amount of sewerage into the Hinois and Mississippl River Valley and he accused the Chicago Sanitary Trustees of having acted in bad faith in the matter of living up to their agreements with the valley people.

The House and Senate met in joint session this afternoon and held services in honor of the memory of the late Governor John P. Altgeld. Eloquent oratorical tributes to the dead statesman were delivered by Representatives Lee O'Neil Browne and John Hughes, Democratis: Clarence Darrow, Public Ownership Representative: Oilve C. Stewart, Prohibitionist, and Lawrence T. Sherman, Republican.

Prayer was offered by the Reverend M. N. Powers and appropriate solos were sung by Harry Oidham. Herman H. Breidt and Mrs. Frank C. Farnum. Mrs. Thomas Rees, Mrs. Joseph Foster and Mrs. C. J. Peterson played the accompaniments.

The House and galleries were filled with friends of Mr. Altgeld, many of whom came from a distance to attend the services.
